FOR BALE -- REAL ESTATE

REGE REALTY CO.

TO THE PUBLIC:

Having sold one-half interest in the Rege Realty Co to Mr. George Z. Edwards, late of Mercur, Utah, I desire to say to our friends and the public that we are fully prepared to do all kinds of contracting and building, and will make a speciality of small down payment. We will buy you a lot, make your plans and build your house, and your monthly payments will not be much more than you are now paying for rent. And while this is a new firm in Sait Lake, it is not a new business to us. You will have the advantage of having your plans made and your work superintended by a man who has served a life in the building business. (Our reference, our work.)

Mr. Edwards will continue to look after his mining interests the uame as in the past, and will be glad to meet his old and new friends at his new places of business at the office of the Rege Realty Co.

This recent snowstorm has made some of our customers anxious to go to California, and we can make you special prices on a number of nice homes for the next few weeks. Call at our office, as we always have men and rigs ready to show you what we have to sell.

List your vacant lots with us. We have customers.

Herrible Death That Came te J. J. Burnswood.

MINER'S BODY IS FOUND

Body Found by Probing Avalanche With an Iron Rod Within Fifteen Feet of Where Cabin Stood.

The search for the body of J. J. Burns wood, which has been in progress at Alta since Thursday afternoon, when his cabin was swept away by a snowslide, culminated yesterday in the discovery of the remains within fifteen feet of the former site of the cabin. The body reached this city last evening and an inquest will be held today.

The body was lying underneath a cook stove and its burned condition indicated that there must have been a big fire in stove and its burned condition indicated that there must have been a big fire in the stove at the time of the accident. The comforting assurance is given, however, that Burnswood sid not meet death by incineration nor suffer from the fire. His head was so badly crushed that he must have been almost instantly killed.

A. O. Jacobson, superintendent of the Columbus Con., was the man who made the discovery. He had been in the tunnel over the mouth of which the cabin stood, and there smelled the odor of burning flesh. This fact suggested to him that the body was somewhere near the tunnel mouth. He procured a long rod, which he pushed through the snow at various places. After probling the snow for two-hours the rod encountered a yielding substance. Mr. Jacobson called to Allie Colbath and Ed Molenberg, who were searching the gulch about sixty feet below. The three men began digging and about four feet from the surface, uncovered the object of their search. The remains lay between the stove and a part of the cabin wall and partly beneath the stove. The stove was broken in fragments. Burnswood's head was crushed in such a manner as to cause almost instant death.

The delay in finding the body was due wood's nead was crushed in such a manner as to cause almost instant death.

The delay in finding the body was due to the fact that all the searching had been carried on further down the mountain side, where the other victim of the silde was recovered. No one thought to look where the cabin had stood, as it was supposed it and its contents had been carlook where the cabin had stood, as it was supposed it and its contents had been carried for a great distance. There was great rejoicing in camp when the body was discovered, as it had been feared that decomposition would set in before it could be given a decent burial. Moreover, the search has occupied the time of nearly every one in the diggings.

Messrs Oberlander and Stevens of Alta brought the body to Salt Lake in a private conveyance, reaching here last night. Coroner Clark is now in charge of the remains.

Burnswood's cabin was built in an ex-posed place and it is said that he had fre-quently been warned of his peril, but took the warnings lightly.

ing discourse by Rev. W. M. Paden at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning. He dwelt upon the wonderful progress in enlightenment and civilization among the Japanese people in the last half-century, and said that while the people are easer for the ma-terial benefits and the intellectual ideas of the West, they do not welcome the religion of Christianity which has made Western civilization possible. "They want the fruits, but reject the tree which bears the fruit," said Dr. Paden.

Social and moral conditions in Japan was driven out. The effect of this was furnished the theme of a very interestdore Perry steamed into the harbor of Yokohama and secured a treaty which opened the ports of Japan to foreign commerce. The fifty years since that time is called the period of enlightenment by the Japanese. The growth of new ideas is made easy by the com-pactness of the country and the concentration of population along the seaboard.

"Considering the obstacles to be over come, Christianity has done very much in the Empire of Japan," said Dr. Paden; "considering the work to be Maich bears the Iruit, said Dr. Paden.

He said that Christianity was first introduced by the Roman missionaries 300 years ago and gained remarkable headway, but on account of the desire of the church to control in matters political it was crushed and Christianity.

ORDERS ARRIVE FOR LOCAL TROOPS

Twelfth Infantry May See Service in the War Now on in the Orient.

The Twelfth infantry, of Fort Douglas, will leave here about February 21st for San Francisco, from whence it will sail on March 1st for Manila. This has been finally settled by the receipt of general orders No. 26, from the War dewas charged with violating the Sunday partment, designating the Twelfth for service in the Philippine Islands, and directing that it embark, under the direction of the commanding General, Department of California, on the date named. The Twenty-second battery of in Salt Lake's Oriental quarter. Firefield artillery will be left in sole charge works of every kind have been received another regiment of infantry can be are there in profusion. sent to the post. It is thought likely that this will be the Eleventh, which is soon to return from duty in the Philippines. There is some reason to be-lieve that the Twelfth may see service where American interests may need special guarding on account of the Russo-Japanese war, although nothing official on this point has been given

It is stated in the order of transfer that "upon the arrival of the Twelfth at Manila the Twenty-ninth infantry, under the direction of the commanding General, Philippines division, will be relieved from duty therein and placed en route to San Francisco. The station of this regiment will be designated hereafter.

In regard to recruiting and re-enlistment in the Twelfth the order says:

The regiment will be recruited to the strength authorized by general orders No. 108, October 25, 1992, headquarters of the army, Adjutant-General's office, and will be fully clothed, armed, equipped and supplied and provided with not to exceed fifty rounds of ammunition per man (four boxes to a company) to be carried, as far as practicable, in original packages and in an accessible place.

All the enlisted men of the regiment who shall have less than one year to serve on the 1st of March, 1904, will be discharged for the convenience of the Government on their written promise to results for a full term of three years, and on being so discharged will be immediately re-enlisted. All enlisted men who shall have less than one year to serve from the date of the proposed departure of the regiment, and who do not desire to be discharged and re-enlisted as specified above, will be transferred by the department commanders to other organizations serving in their respective departments. In the case of non-commissioned officers the transfers will be as privates, but should they prefer they may be discharged for the convenience of the Government.

After the re-enlistments mentioned in the preceding paragraph, department commanders are further authorized to transfer to the Twelfth infantry, to the extent of actual vacancies therein, such enlisted men of other infantry regiments in their commandes as desire foreign service and have at least two years to serve Any vacancies remaining in the outgoing regiment after these transfers will be filled by the assignment of the necessary recruits from renderyous.

In the case of non-commissioned officers the transfers will be as privates.

PLUM ALLEY IN GLORY.

INCENSE, TOM-TOMS AND FIRE-CRACKERS ANNOUNCE AR-RIVAL OF NEW YEAR'S.

With a furious cannonade of glant firecrackers and aglow with flames from many altars. Chinatown ushered in the new year at 12 o'clock last night. Plum alley was in a turmoil and olive-tinted Chinks kept up the weird and fearful din until daybreak. Tomtoms beat incessantly, while the wild jabberings of the elated Celestials mingled to create a monster uproar.

Preparations have been made for the most elaborate celebration ever given of Fort Douglas until such time as in large quantities and hop and incense A number of new josses have been installed in the alley for the benefit of the increasing population. Whisky and rice were poured in front of the graven images yesterday to drive away any evil spirits that might be lurking in the vicinity. All the afternoon and eve-ning faithful worshipers of the wooden god made obelsances. "Cowtow" bowing down and bending of knees before the joss. A venerable priest keeps watch over the josses and receives whatever offer-ings may be made to appease the wrath of the gods. Incense fires will be kept burning constantly until the celebration ccases. On the altar of every joss a fire has been lighted. Preparations have been made by the Chinamen to receive and welcome any visitors who may desire to witness the festivities. They sent a committee to the Chief of Police yesterday, however, asking protection from the hoodlums who interfered with their proceedings last year. The celebration will con-tinue for one week.

Tendency of the Times. The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by all druggists, ble for Railroad Builders at the Other End.

A letter received in the local San Pedro office tells of the snag the officials of the Salt Lake route have encountered on the ocean front. San Pedro people are deeply interested in what promises to be a legal strugglo between the Salt Lake Ratiroad company and the homesteaders who have squatted on the tide lands skirting the railroad right of way along the ocean front. Right of possession of this water front land to the bone of contention. Those who have staked out homesteads or have erected homes on the lands claim it is Government property, subject to settlement, while the railroad company maintains that it is the sole property of the railroad corporation by right of purchase and all others are trespassers. Last week the railroad officials ordered a gang of laborers to clear the tidelands of the stakes planted by more than a score of residents of San Pedro. Half a mile of the beach was "combed" of these homestead stakes, but the work stopped about a hundred feet from a little shanty about a hundred feet from a little shanty built by John Coilins. Three months ago Coilins built his house upon the beach. The structure is only 16x20 feet, but Coilins says his home is his castle and defies the railroad people to tear down his house or remove the stakes in the lot adjoining, which he has also staked.

Coilins has constructed a timber foundation for the erection of another dwelling on his vacant claim and immediately adjoining on the south J. Mashon, another squatter, has done likewise. The erection of these two foundations of filmsy scantilings, intended as the support of prospective dwellings, proved the buffer zone between the railroad company's work of obliterating the staked claims and Coilins's dwelling.

COLLINS IS DETERMINED. COLLINS IS DETERMINED.

Collins declares he is determined to stand by what he believes are his rights and that no railroad corporation shall take snap judgment on propositions of law where his home is at stake. He is apparently sincere in his determination to resist any effort on the part of the railroad to evict him and will only yield to a process of law.

"They started to tear out the stakes of "They started to tear out the stakes of the homesteaders down the beach on Thursday," said Collins in discussing his position, "but they did not touch my claim. This is my house and that is my lot (pointing to the staked bit of ground adjoining) and I have kept a gun beside me ever since they commenced meddling around here. Any one who tries to force me to leave and has not the right to do it take his life in his hands. This is my property and I have a right to defend it, if the law says I am wrong, that is different."

ferent."
With this brief statement Collins dismissed the subject and declined to discuss it further. No one connected with the railroad company in San Pedro appears to know who Collins is; in fact, they did not know the name of the determined man in the little green cottage less than hundred feet from the East San Pedro railroad station.

He and his shotgun appear to have inspired a sincer respect. And Collins looks like a man who does not indulge in idle talk. He is a large, powerfully-built man, about 53 years of age and as silent as the sphynx when any attempt is made as the sphynx when any attempt is made to draw him into conversation that he thinks he should avoid. Beside him, along the beach to the north, are a number of small dwellings, all occupied, and all acquired in the same manner in which Collins secured his. These people apparently are walting to see what Collins will do. If he evacuates the territory no doubt they will follow him. If he holds on they are likely to stick also.

RALLEGAD IS DISCREET.

RAILROAD IS DISCREET.

W. W. Fairbanks, the railroad company's agent and representative at San Pedro, declined to discuss the belilgerent attitude of the squatters or the position and intention of his company, except to state that he was working under orders. Fairbanks said he had been ordered to clear off the stakes planted by so-called homesteaders along the beach and he had done so last Thursday. He said he did not know the name of the man occupying the little green house, but it is significant that the railroad company's men stopped grubbing stakes when they got to Col-RAILROAD IS DISCREET.

little green house, but it is significant that the railroad company's men stopped grubbing stakes when they got to Collins's line.

Although Agent Fairbanks would not discuss the railroad's intentions in the premises it is intimated that the company claims ownership to all lands embraced beyond the actual right of way down to low water mark. This distance varies at different points from Terminal Island station to East San Pedro station. In some places the waters of the ocean wash up to within a few yards of the right of way, while at other points it is several hundred yards seaward.

The settlement of the whole controversy will probably not be effected until the matter has been given a legal airing.
